Patrick will drill on B.C. prospect

Patrick Resources, a relatively new junior resource company headed by Patrick Harrison, former president of mining construction contractors Patrick Harrison & Co., plans to start a first-phase drill program within the next few days on a gold property near Nelson, B.C.

ROZAN
Company Director Glenn Campbell tells The Northern Miner the program, consisting of approximately 2,000 to 3,000 ft. of drilling, should be completed by the end of the month.

Consulting engineer P. J. Santos says in a report on the property — known as the ROZAN — that sampling of a quartz vein averaged 0.328 oz. gold per ton over a width of 18 inches. A massive sulphide vein exposed in a trench assayed 0.40 oz. gold, and a grab sample of a small stockpile of sulphide ore at the main portal assayed 2.47 oz., the report says.

Financing for the program will come from a public offering, in B.C., of 450,000 units, at a price of 40¢ per unit. The offering will be made through Canarim Investment Corp., Continental Carlisle Douglas, and Brink, Hudson & Lefever.

Mr. Campbell said a second-phase drill program, on a larger scale, could get under way on the Rozan property in the early spring next year.
