done between 1894 and 1904; it included driving an adit, drift, inclined winze, and inclined shaft. The drift follows a shear which dips 35 to 50 degrees northeast and contains pockets of quartz and sulphides. Galena is the principal sulphide, accompanied by a little sphalerite and tetrahedrite. The property is described by Emmens and Gunning.

The Black Prince property is across Gainer Creek from the Badshot, in the southwest face of Mohican Mountain. It is owned by James Main of Ferguson.
