

Quadra Island
92 K/3W

12	Copper Cliff	Cu Au Ag	Fracture controlled - up to 2m wide Cu in vol (ADIT) 4082 tons 3.05% Cu
19	Dawn	Ag Au Cu	Qty in qtz vein at contact 210' + 9' dia
52	Radium	Cu V U	Cu in amygd vol
58	Doe	Cu	Cu in amygd vol
61	Slavin, White Hope	Au Ag Cu	No description
71	Ingersoll, Copper Bell, Beaver	Ag Cu	Chalcopyrite with qtz in vein faults 9090 tons 810 g Ag 172,250 lbs Cu
72	Copper with Copper Hills Hercules	Cu Au Ag	10 tons 30 g gold 1030 g Ag 81 lb Cu Truncating Cu, some min on shaly beds underlain by Cu min in Karmutsen
73	Emator	Cu Au Ag	370 tons 81 g Ag 11,106 lb Cu Chalcopyrite with qtz in vertical faults
74	Ingersoll #2, Beaver	Cu	Chalcopyrite + bornite on jnt + shears 1975 E11 1976 E25 1977 E172 1978 E180
103	Pomeroy, Hercules Copper with	Cu	Pomeroy 1,071,131 @ 1.65% Cu Fq chalcopyrite - small fract, qtz carb veins Reserve 16,300 T 1.7% Cu (428 199 @ 1.62%)
118	Butte	Cu	Chalcopyrite + native Cu in amygdalite fract Part of Copper Bell group Expl. by 1975, 76, 77, 78
119	Copperopolis	Cu Ag Au	Amygd. Basalt. Open cut 22m Part of Copper Bell grp

During 1983 Comox also discovered a new silicified zone which returned values up to two ounces silver per ton from weathered surface material. Technical appraisal indicated this structure bears similarities to gold bearing epithermal deposits occurring in the southwest United States and Mexico. Mapping, sampling and drilling will be conducted during summer 1984 to test this structure for precious metals.

Members of the management team have the opportunity to diversify the holdings of Comox Resources Ltd. through judicious appraisal of other mineral properties. Consideration is being given to acquisition of, or participation in, several mineral prospects although no actual negotiations are presently underway on any specific property. The intention of the company is to acquire interests in major mineral deposits with both short and long term profit potential. At the same time management will continue to assess small high grade deposits for possible short term cash flow possibilities.