Dear Len:

Re: Kwanika Creek Project

Many thanks for the opportunity to review the Kwanika Creek material. I don't feel that the property would be our style as things are at the moment, but I must admit to a sneaky feeling that the Pinchi fault combined with all the known showings in the Tchentlo/Nation Lakes area, should produce an orebody somewhere.

I think we are going to be very careful of ultra low-grade moly/copper shows in B. C. for the time being, at least until the powers that be begin to talk at least some sense in respect to the industry.

Your copies of the report and map are enclosed as requested.

Yours very truly,

I don't see any direct interest in this property for us. However, I can't help feeling that - Tchenko - Matens Lake - Falconbridge "Campbell's shering," - & Leifgard's shering at the northwest end of Tchenko Lake might all be pointing to something on or near the Pinehi. Campbell is supposed to have some good sites & that just east of Lake Puchmil that we might try & get a look out. - Chances here for both high-grade or a black
- buster I feel.
