Tom... to my knowledge Int'l Ranger only has the Foghorn (Rexspar) property.

Freeport owns the historic Eaglet "developed prospect" which is covered by the Q claims (so Eaglet and Q are one-and-the-same property). Eaglet does possess some impressive MO mineralization--seemed much more prominent than the fluorite when I visited the property a few years ago!

Hey could Eric drop off my poster at the Wall Centre? I'll pick it up Tuesday early evening.

Thanks

Bob

Bobbie - Does Int'l Ranger own/have options on all 3? Where does Freeport Res. fit into the picture. I'm mainly interested in the moly potential (cf. uranium).
