Dear John:

On behalf of the Geological Survey Branch, I write to express my sincere thanks to J.T. Thomas Drilling Ltd. and to you in particular for maintaining secure storage of the pallet of Granduc core. It was gratifying to see the core in such good condition when Tom Schroeter, Bob Lane and I visited your office last Thursday.

The Granduc Core was donated to GSB by John MacDonald and Paul McGuigan on behalf of Esso Minerals. The core library is particularly valuable because it consists of two complete holes supported by drill logs, assays and sections stored in our Smithers office.

We will put a sign on the pallet to identify it as soon as possible. Also, I will endeavor over this winter to come up with a more suitable long term storage site. Until then, please direct anyone interested in examining the core to me, so that I can take responsibility to ensure it is properly re-piled etc.

John, thank you for your hospitality and your support.

Yours truly,

Paul Wojdak, P. Geo.
District Geologist
