

An aerial photograph of a vast mountain range, likely the Sierra Nevada, showing rugged terrain with numerous peaks and valleys. The mountains are covered in dense green forest, with some higher elevations appearing brownish or tan, possibly due to sparse vegetation or snow. A winding river or road is visible in the lower-middle section. The sky is filled with white, fluffy clouds. In the lower right quadrant, there is handwritten text in black ink that reads "HEART" above "PEAKS", with a downward-pointing arrow between the two words.
