Dear Tom,

Re: Heritage AGM and Corporate Presentation "Heritage's Eskay Creek Exploration Program – Taking Targets to Discoveries or Turning Concepts into Reality"

Mr. Glenn Laing cordially invites you to attend the Annual Meeting of Heritage Explorations Ltd. and Corporate Presentation.

The Heritage Eskay Creek Exploration Program has been a flagship project for Geoinformatics Explorations Limited (formerly Fractal Graphics – winners of the 2001 Goldcorp Red Lake Challenge) to apply leading edge state of the art technology and science to the exploration business. – "Chaos to Concepts – Concepts to Reality"

In 2001 Heritage and Geoinformatics started a collaboration to compile large 3D datasets from large amounts of disparate geological data ("Chaos") in the Eskay Creek Mining Camp. These datasets were modeled into 3D Models and exploration targets were defined ("Concepts"). Concurrent with these activities Heritage accumulated a large strategic 117,000 acre land position in the Eskay Creek Mining Camp

The 2002 Exploration Season was spent validating these 3D models and confirming the controls over mineralization. A short 8 hole drill program showed an intersection that encountered 38.4 feet of 0.568 ounces of gold per ton and 46.75 ounces of silver per ton, including 23 feet of 0.898 ounces of gold and 75 ounces of silver per ton. A regional geochemical program identified a number of large geochemical anomalies in previously unexplored areas.

The 2003 Exploration Program is planned to turn a number of these targets ("Concepts") to Discoveries ("Reality")

Heritage Explorations Ltd. have just completed a $2,700,000 financing to execute this Summer's Exploration program which will begin on July 1, 2003.
