This is in response to the Minister's Office request for advice on a request for a meeting. Tom provided me with this information. Fred, could you check out the status of the approvals and whether they have to get reapproved by EA if they want to start construction. (You'll likely need legal advice.)

Subject: Treminco Sulphurets

The Sulphurets gold/silver project was approved in the early 90's but did not proceed at that time because of soft gold prices and high logistical costs (it's surrounded by glaciers). Treminco--which has not been particularly active in BC-- bought it from Northair/Newhawk quite recently. Therefore it would be worth having Treminco introduce themselves and their plans for this project to the Minister.

Peter

Treminco has just aquired the Sulpharets property which was authorised some years ago under a Mine Development Review Certificate. The Certificate was extended once and that extension is about to expire. At this point in order to get another extension of the certificate Treminco has to get approval from the Environmental Assessment Office. They have been advised of this. If the certificate gets extended then they would not have to go through the EA process if it does not then the full EA process would come into effect.
