NEW CANAMIN RESOURCES LTD. [NNI-V]

DRILL PROGRAM TO RESUME AT HUCKLEBERRY-Allan C. Savage, president reports

New Canamin Resources Ltd. has resumed drilling on the newly discovered Huckleberry East Zone where a 20,000 foot program has been permitted. The Huckleberry project is located 40 km east of Kemano, B. C. New Canamin can earn a 100% interest from Kennecott by spending $1,500,000 over five years. Kennecott can back-in to a 60% interest. This drilling program will follow up on the highly successful 13,500 foot program recently completed on the East Zone. The purpose of this program will be to increase reserves to depth and to extend the deposit along its strike to the west and east. A preliminary reserve estimate for the East Zone will be reported the near future.

Geonex Aerodat has completed 500 line kilometers of airborne magnetometer, EM and radiometric surveying. This geophysical program was flown from the south boundary of the Huckleberry property to and including the company's Whiting Creek deposit to the north. The data generated along with other geological information will form the basis of a property-wide exploration program to be announced in the near future.
