Dear Sir:

Many thanks for allowing us to peruse the Schaft Creek data. While it is obvious that the ground holds good exploration potential outside of the known drilled zone, there appears to be a definite terrain problem. Before taking the matter further I would definitely want to see the location of some of the anomalies on the ground. While realizing this poses a time problem with regard to the 75 exploration season, and that you may well receive offers in the meantime, I would be remiss in failing to look at this aspect in the light of information supplied by people familiar with the area.

If you are still open to offers when ground conditions permit an examination of the property, we would be pleased to do so.

Yours very truly,

J. G. Simpson,
Exploration Manager
